GRADE 4 WACKY WEATHER

A snowflake is winter's butterfly.

This month, fourth graders are working on a passion project that is tied to our current reading unit "Reading the Weather". They will present their passion projects during a "Wacky Weather Expo" at the end of January. The topics include, hurricanes, tornadoes, tsunamis, floods, droughts, blizzards and volcanoes. Some items students are creating include filming stop motion videos, painting canvases of extreme weather, using a green screen to develop a public service announcement, building clay models, and developing slide presentations to showcase their expert knowledge about weather.
