Welcome to your quarterly newsletter! We are excited to share our Chartwell's story with you. Over the past several months we have been serving up happy and healthy foods throughout the district with a variety of activities and programs.

We are pleased to announce that our program, Student Choice, is proving to be a huge success with students and faculty. The program allows students to choose what's on the menu! We currently have three concepts in our menu rotation Roost, Flare, and Big City BBQ.

MOOD BOOST

We showcased Mood Boost a series of six, fun and engaging characters to help our students recognize their different moods: Alert, Calm, Confident, Happy, Smart, and Strong. At West Woods Elementary School, we paired up recipes that may influence your mood. Fifth and sixth graders sampled a Confident Cole Slaw salad. Our students were very engaged with our chefs and enjoyed the presentation.

We want to hear from you!

In December, we rolled out our Diversity and Inclusion Surveys. The survey is used to constantly improve our diversity and inclusion programs.

Team Leaders

Let's recognize our supervisor!
Pablo Vasquez has been leading our high school team for almost two years. He has been instrumental during our current school format. Thank you to Pablo for all of his hard work and dedication.

Reminder

We are serving On the Go meals at our high school Monday, Wednesday, and Fridays. Anyone can participate and select as many meals as you would like for your entire family. We are offering breakfast, lunch, and dinner meals. We have multiple selections from Breakfast Sandwiches, Fun Lunches, Mini Pancakes, Breaded Chicken Dinners, Assorted Wraps, Salads, Individual Pizzas, Etc.

Our District Leadership Directors have started a great study group on Unconscious Bias in Schools. We are reading the book by the same title above written by Tracey A. Benson and Sarah E. Fiarman. Their case study helps us understand how to detect unconscious bias, strive to improve ourselves, and manage this very serious subject.
