SECOND GRADE

Second graders have been learning about FORCES! We are learning about friction and will be soon learning about magnets, gravity and other forces of motion.

As readers, students have been learning about how to research about the different forces in their inquiry groups. Students are focusing on taking notes, close reading and close viewing to gain a deeper understanding of forces.

SECOND GRADE

As writers, students have been finishing up research projects for Black History Month. They are also learning about how to write scientific procedures and working on writing paragraphs to include into their group forces presentations.

All About Patrick Mahomes

Patrick Mahomes was an awesome QB in college. He was born in Tyler, Texas September 1995. He went to highschool at whitehouse Texas. In the 2017 NFL draft he got picked by the Kansas City Chiefs.

As mathematicians, students are applying their measuring and data collection skills while performing scientific procedures.

Students are preparing for their student led conferences. They are excited to share their areas of growth and some new areas to work on for the third term.
